Import TXT and MS Word files. Import, split, merge and save CSV files (Excel). How to Use Ubuntu 17.10 with Advanced Encryption Standard (AES) support built in. Dec 22, 2016. Announcing The New "fiedradio" Headphones We're thrilled to announce the latest version of our flagship project - "fiedradio"! The new version of the live radio app consists of a completely new looking interface, and we've made sure that this was done with the utmost attention to details. We also announced a couple of improvements to the listening app: "Just Playing" function: after some time listening, you can launch the "Just Playing" function, and get back to the music you were listening to before. Shut Down/Turn Off: When listening to podcasts (available only for free users) you can shut down the app and turn off the display using the power button. In this case, you will get a summary of what you were listening to before shutting down. The new iOS app is not only beautifully designed, but also more reliable and more useful than ever. We've got a few months to go until the release of our Android app, so you can expect the whole story when it's available - stay tuned! Also, don't forget to visit our sticker-team on Telegram and follow us on Twitter! As always, your feedback and suggestions are highly appreciated.
